The Declaration of Independence is generally regarded as one of the most famous documents in the history of the world. On June 10, 1776, the Continental Congress appointed a committee, consisting of Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Roger Sherman and Robert R. Livingston to draft a Declaration of Independence.

Jefferson wrote out a rough draft of the Declaration, which was carefully revised by the committee and presented to Congress for adoption. After some further slight revisions by that body, it was adopted on July 4, 1776, at Philadelphia.

The parchment with the original signatures was deposited with the Department of State when the government was organized in 1789.

The original Declaration of Independence was transferred from the Department of State by direction of the late President Warren G. Harding to the Library of Congress. The Declaration was moved from the Library of Congress in 1952 at the direction of Congress and transferred to the National Archives Building where it rests today.

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

MADE BY THE ORIGINAL THIRTEEN STATES

---

UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED JULY 4, 1776

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed, by their Creator, with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established, should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people should relinquish the right of representation in the legislature, a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected, whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither; and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the military independent of and superior to the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing taxes on us without our consent:

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses:

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies:

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments:

For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is, at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy, scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms: our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace friends.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do in the name, and by authority of the good people of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies, are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connexion between them and the State of Great Britain, is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that as free and independent States, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States, may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honour.

The United States Constitution is the oldest federal constitution in existence. It was so well framed that it has served as the basis for this government for a century and a half. Only once has it been seriously endangered, this being during the Civil War. Many of its principles have been adopted by other countries.

The Constitution was the outgrowth of a convention of delegates from the different states that met in Philadelphia in May, 1787, Rhode Island not being represented. George Washington presided over the convention, which lasted from May to September.

The Constitution was then submitted to the then existing states for ratification, with a provision that it should become effective when ratified by nine states. New Hampshire was the ninth state to ratify, June 21, 1788, and the Constitution went into effect in 1789.

The states ratified the Constitution in the following order: Delaware, Dec. 7; Pennsylvania, Dec. 12, and New Jersey, Dec. 18, 1787; Georgia, Jan. 2; Connecticut, Jan. 9; Massachusetts, Feb. 6; Maryland, Apr. 28; South Carolina, May 23; New Hampshire, June 21; Virginia, June 26, and New York, July 26, 1788; North Carolina, Nov. 21, 1789, and Rhode Island, May 29, 1790.

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

The Constitution originally consisted of a Preamble and seven Articles, and in that form was completed and signed at a convention of the States, Sept. 17, 1787. The Government under the Constitution was declared in effect on the first Wednesday in March, 1789.

PART FIRST

BILL OF RIGHTS

Article 1st. [Equality of Men; Origin and Object of Government.] All men are born equally free and independent: Therefore, all government, of right, originates from the people, is founded in consent, and instituted for the general good.

Annotation — 53 NH 9, 65 NH 113, 86 NH 597, 89 NH 428, 96 NH 423, 102 NH 215, 105 NH 366.

[Art.] 2d. [Natural Rights.] All men have certain natural, essential, and inherent rights — among which are, the enjoying and defending life and liberty; acquiring, possessing, and protecting, property; and, in a word, of seeking and obtaining happiness. Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by this state on account of race, creed, color, sex or national origin.

Note. — The abbreviation "Art" was first inserted in this and following articles of the Bill of Rights in General Statutes, 1867. Amended 1974.

Annotation — 53 NH 9, 53 NH 398, 54 NH 117, 54 NH 590, 60 NH 219, 67 NH 1, 71 NH 552, 72 NH 95, 73 NH 31, 75 NH 27, 77 NH 581, 87 NH 64, 87 NH 68, 94 NH 148, 102 NH 236.

[Art.] 3d. [Society, its Organization and Purposes.] When men enter into a state of society, they surrender up some of their natural rights to that society, in order to ensure the protection of others; and, without such an equivalent, the surrender is void.

Annotation — 53 NH 9, 60 NH 219, 71 NH 552, 89 NH 54, 97 NH 91, 105 NH 355.

[Art.] 4th. [Rights of Conscience Unalienable.] Among the natural rights, some are, in their very nature unalienable, because no equivalent can be given or received for them. Of this kind are the Rights of Conscience.

Annotation — 53 NH 9, 59 NH 219, 89 NH 54, 100 NH 436.

[Art.] 5th. [Religious Freedom Recognized.] Every individual has a natural and unalienable right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience, and reason; and no subject shall be hurt, molested, or restrained, in his person, liberty, or estate, for worshipping God in the manner and season most agreeable to the dictates of his own conscience; or for his religious profession, sentiments, or persuasion; provided he doth not disturb the public peace or disturb others in their religious worship.

Annotation — 53 NH 9, 58 NH 240, 59 NH 219, 64 NH 48, 68 NH 380, 76 NH 393, 89 NH 54, 91 NH 137, 97 NH 352, 99 NH 519, 100 NH 436.

[Art.] 6th. [Morality and Piety.] As morality and piety, rightly grounded on high principles, will give the best and greatest security to government, and will lay, in the hearts of men, the strongest obligations to due subjection; and as the knowledge of these is most likely to be propagated through a society, therefore, the several parishes, bodies corporate, or religious societies shall at all times have the right of electing their own teachers, and of contracting with them for their support or maintenance, or both. But no person shall ever be compelled to pay towards the support of the schools of any sect or denomination. And every person, denomination or sect shall be equally under the protection of the law; and no subordination of any one sect, denomination or persuasion to another shall ever be established.

NOTE. — This article amended 1968.

Annotation — 2 NH 20, 53 NH 9, 56 NH 508, 58 NH 170, 66 NH 207, 75 NH 420, 75 NH 560, 76 NH 393, 88 NH 394, 93 NH 301, 99 NH 519.

[Art.] 7th. [State Sovereignty.] The people of this state have the sole and exclusive right of governing themselves as a free, sovereign, and independent state; and do, and forever hereafter shall, exercise and enjoy every power, jurisdiction, and right, pertaining thereto, which is not, or may not hereafter be, by them expressly delegated to the United States of America in congress assembled.

Annotation — 66 NH 362, 90 NH 472, 105 NH 286.

[Art.] 8th. [Accountability of Magistrates and Officers.] All power residing originally in, and being derived from, the people, all the magistrates and officers of government are their substitutes and agents, and at all times accountable to them.

Annotation — 66 NH 362, 67 NH 1, 90 NH 472.

[Art.] 9th. [No Hereditary Office or Place.] No office or place, whatsoever, in government, shall be hereditary — the abilities and integrity requisite in all, not being transmissible to posterity or relations.

[Art.] 10th. [Right of Revolution.] Government being instituted for the common benefit, protection, and security, of the whole community, and not for the private interest or emolument of any one man, family, or class of men; therefore, whenever the ends of government are perverted, and public liberty manifestly endangered, and all other means of redress are ineffectual, the people may, and of right ought to reform the old, or establish a new government. The doctrine of nonresistance against arbitrary power, and oppression, is absurd, slavish, and destructive of the good and happiness of mankind.

Annotation — 52 NH 581, 60 NH 219, 65 NH 113, 86 NH 597, 88 NH 484, 89 NH 314, 90 NH 472, 99 NH 33, 101 NH 527.

[Art.] 11th. [Elections and Elective Franchise.] All elections ought to be free, and every inhabitant of the state, having the proper qualifications, has equal right to elect, and be elected, into office; but no person shall have the right to vote or be eligible to office under the constitution of this state who shall not be able to read the constitution in the English language and to write; provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to any person prevented solely by a physical disability from complying with its requisitions, nor to any person who now has the right to vote; and provided further that no person shall have the right to vote, or be eligible to office under the constitution of this state who shall have been convicted of treason, bribery, or any wilful violation of the election laws of this state, or of the United States; but the supreme court may, on notice to the attorney-general restore the privileges of an elector to any person who may have forfeited them by conviction of such offenses. The general court shall have power to provide by law for voting by qualified voters who at the time of biennial or state elections, or of the primary elections therefor, or of city elections are absent from the city or town of which they are inhabitants, or who by reason of physical disability are unable to vote in person, in the choice of any officer or officers to be elected or upon any question submitted at such election. The right to vote shall not be denied to any person because of the non-payment of any tax.

NOTE. — First proviso inserted, 1903; second proviso inserted 1912. The last sentence was added in 1942 and amended in 1956, and 1968.

[Art.] 16th. [Former Jeopardy; Jury Trial in Capital Cases.] No subject shall be liable to be tried, after an acquittal, for the same crime or offense. [Art.] 17th. [Venue of Criminal Prosecutions.] In criminal prosecutions, the trial of facts, in the vicinity where they happened, is so essential to the security of the life, liberty, and estate, of the citizen, that no crime or offense ought to be tried in any other county than that in which it is committed; — except in cases of general insurrection in any particular county, when it shall appear to the judges of the superior court, that an impartial trial cannot be had in the county where the offense may be committed, and upon their report, the legislature shall think proper to direct the trial in the nearest county in which an impartial trial can be obtained.

[Art.] 18th. [Penalties to be Proportioned to Offenses; True Design of Punishment.] All penalties ought to be proportioned to the nature of the offense. No wise legislature will affix the same punishment to the crimes of theft, forgery, and the like, which they do to those of murder and treason. Where the same undistinguishing severity is exerted against all offenses, the people are led to forget the real distinction in the crimes themselves, and to commit the most flagrant with as little compunction as they do the lightest offenses. For the same reason a multitude of sanguinary laws is both impolitic and unjust. The true design of all punishments being to reform, not to exterminate mankind.

Therefore, all warrants to search suspected places, or arrest a person for examination or trial in prosecutions for criminal matters, are contrary to this right, if the cause or foundation of them be not previously supported by oath or affirmation; and if the order, in a warrant to a civil officer, to make search in suspected places, or to arrest one or more suspected persons or to seize their property, be not accompanied with a special designation of the persons or objects of search, arrest, or seizure; and no warrant ought to be issued; but in cases, and with the formalities, prescribed by law.

[Art.] 29th. [Suspension of Laws by Legislature Only.] The power of suspending the laws, or the execution of them, ought never to be exercised but by the legislature, or by authority derived therefrom, to be exercised in such particular cases only as the legislature shall expressly provide for.

[Art.] 30th. [Freedom of Speech.] The freedom of deliberation, speech, and debate, in either house of the legislature, is so essential to the

It is the right of every citizen to be tried by judges as impartial as the lot of humanity will admit. It is therefore not only the best policy, but for the security of the rights of the people, that the judges of the supreme judicial court should hold their offices so long as they behave well; subject, however, to such limitations, on account of age, as may be provided by the constitution of the state; and that they should have honorable salaries, ascertained and established by standing laws.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

Early historians record that in 1623, under the authority of an English land-grant, Captain John Mason, in conjunction with several others, sent David Thomson, a Scotchman, and Edward and Thomas Hilton, fish-merchants of London, with a number of other people in two divisions to establish a fishing colony in what is now New Hampshire, at the mouth of the Piscataqua River.

One of these divisions, under Thomson, settled near the river's mouth at a place they called Little Harbor or "Pannaway," now the town of Rye, where they erected salt-drying fish racks and a "factory" or stone house. The other division under the Hilton brothers set up their fishing stages on a neck of land eight miles above, which they called Northam, afterwards named Dover.

Nine years before that Captain John Smith of England and later of Virginia, sailing along the New England coast and inspired by the charm of our summer shores and the solitude of our countrysides, wrote back to his countrymen that:

"Here should be no landlords to rack us with high rents, or extorted fines to consume us. Here every man may be a master of his own labor and land in a short time. The sea there is the strangest pond I ever saw. What sport doth yield a more pleasant content and less hurt or charge than angling with a hook, and crossing the sweet air from isle to isle over the silent streams of a calm sea?"

Thus the settlement of New Hampshire did not happen because those who came here were persecuted out of England. The occasion, which is one of the great events in the annals of the English people, was one planned with much care and earnestness by the English crown and the English parliament. Here James the first began a colonization project which not only provided ships and provisions, but free land bestowed with but one important condition, that it remain always subject to English sovereignty.

So it remained until the "War of the Revolution." Smith first named it "North Virginia" but King James later revised this into "New England." To the map was added the name Portsmouth, taken from the English town where Captain John Mason was commander of the fort, and the name New Hampshire is that of his own English county of Hampshire.

Captain Mason died in 1635, just before his proposed trip to the new country which he never saw. He had invested more than twenty-two thousand pounds in clearing the land, building houses, and preparing for its defense, — a considerable fortune for those days. By then Dover and Portsmouth had expanded into Hampton and Exeter, and its income from fishing was increased by that from trade in furs and timber.

Taking the idea from the English government, a community of "towns" was erected, and this became a "royal province" in 1679 with John Cutt as president, with a population intended to be as nearly like England as it could be. The "royal province" continued until 1698 when it came under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts with Joseph Dudley as Governor. Thus it continued until 1741.

During that time England's throne had been ruled by William and Mary, Queen Anne, and George I, and New Hampshire was administered by no less than eight lieutenant governors. There had been much unrest in England and as a result, to New Hampshire's advantage, the Scotch settlers of Londonderry in Ireland had in 1719 sent many of their people here to form a "Scotch" colony in the new place they would call our own Londonderry.

Under King George II New Hampshire returned to its provincial status with a governor of its own, Benning Wentworth, who was its chief magistrate from 1741 to 1766.

During the first two decades of Governor Wentworth's term New Hampshire had been beset with Indian troubles. With little aid from England, then at war with its old-time enemy, France, the colonists undertook the sieges of Louisbourg, and helped to reduce Crown Point, and in the conquest of Canada. By the time of the signing of the Peace of Paris in 1762, and the end of the Indian fighting under the Rogers Rangers, the entire north country of New Hampshire was ready to be explored, surveyed, and populated.

Governor Wentworth who, as if in anticipation of this opportunity, seems to have been well prepared for it, had arranged the purchase for the sum of fifteen hundred pounds of the unauthenticated claims of Robert Mason, heir of Captain John Mason. This was done through a group of twelve influential citizens who called themselves the "Masonian Proprietors." Having done this, the governor kept the land "within the province."

Governor Wentworth, with all or most of the Masonian Proprietors as his councilors, then proceeded to grant towns to prospective settlers as equally as possible. In addition to the thirty-eight towns already granted, more than a hundred others followed after the year 1761. These towns contained lots available to more than thirty thousand families, many from the older towns in southern New Hampshire and Massachusetts, but many from other neighboring states. Some of these towns were located in Vermont, to be released later by a court order, which made the western shore of the Connecticut River the state boundary line.

While the new towns were occasionally given the names of the leading grantees, not a few of them bore the historic names of English royalty, frequently those of friends and relatives of Governor Wentworth and his own royal family, the Rockinghams, in England. Many of the beneficiaries were soldiers who had fought in the Indian wars, while a few were of Dutch origin, such as might settle from New York in New Hampshire.

The terms of the grants were simple. The Proprietors could convey only the soil, while the political rights and powers of government came from the province. Provision was made that no land should be subject to taxation or assessment until improved by those holding the titles. Rights were reserved for land for roads, churches and schools, to be built within a definite period of time, for the use of ministers and in many cases for mill-rights. Fees were nominal, often only a shilling or an ear of corn a year. All tall pines should be saved for the King's navy.

Benning Wentworth died in 1770. He was succeeded by his nephew who later became Sir John Wentworth, the last of the royal governors. He is perhaps best known because of his purchase of a thirty-six mile tract of land on the shore of Lake Winnepesaukee where he established an estate known as Kingswood. It afterward became Wolfeborough.

Governor Sir John Wentworth's beneficial acts to the state included the building of roads, including one from Portsmouth to Kingswood; publishing the first accurate state map; organizing the State militia, a member of which was Major Benjamin Thompson of Concord who afterward became known as Count Rumford; his help in founding Dartmouth College; and the building of Wentworth House, now owned by the State. Loyal to the English crown, he embarked for Nova Scotia at the beginning of the Revolution, there to become its Lieutenant-governor until his death in 1820.

A pre-Revolution event occurring in New Hampshire was the removal in 1774, by a small party of patriots at New Castle, of the powder and guns at Fort William and Mary. Other Revolutionary events included New Hampshire's participation in the Battle of Bunker Hill at which nearly all the troops doing the actual fighting were said to have been from this State; the signing of the Declaration of Independence by New Hampshire's Josiah Bartlett, Matthew Thornton, and William Whipple; General John Stark's victory at the Battle of Bennington; and the success of Captain John Paul Jones at sea.

Just as it was the first to declare its independence and adopt its own constitution, New Hampshire was the ninth and deciding state in accepting the National Constitution as that of a republic, never to be known under any other form of government. New Hampshire's John Langdon was the first acting vice-president of the United States, and was President of the Senate when Washington was elected first president.

Many events have helped to individualize New Hampshire's unique history as the decades have followed each other down to the present time. Both Washington and Lafayette passed within our borders. Meshech Weare was elected the first state "president." Morey's Connecticut River steam-boat preceded Fulton's by seventeen years. An American President, Franklin Pierce, and a Vice-president, Henry Wilson, were elected, both from New Hampshire. Daniel Webster won his famous Dartmouth College case before the Supreme Court. The first American public library was established at Peterborough. The world-recognized "Concord Coach" was made here, as was America's first cog-railroad to Mount Washington dating 1869.

Statesmen, educators, inventors, preachers, scientists, explorers, authors, industrialists, engineers, lawyers, diplomats, are all arrayed in the long line of notables New Hampshire claims as coming from her soil.

GEOGRAPHICAL LOCATION

New Hampshire is situated the most northern of the thirteen original states and lies between latitude 42-40 and 45-18 north and longitude 70-37 and 72-37 west. It is about 180 miles long and 50 miles wide, although the extreme width is 93 miles.

It is bounded on the north by Quebec province in Canada, on the east by Maine and the Atlantic ocean, on the south by Massachusetts, and on the west by Vermont. The Connecticut River is the western boundary.

"MOTHER OF RIVERS"

Geographies sometimes speak of the state as the "Mother of Rivers." Five of the great streams of New England originate in its granite hills. The Connecticut River rises in the northern part, and for nearly one hundred miles of its winding course hems the shores of the state with a "broad seam of silver." The Pemigewasset River starts in the Profile Lake in the Franconia mountains and joins the Winnepesaukee at Franklin to form the Merrimack, which at one time turned more spindles than any other river in the world. The Cocheco and Salmon Falls rivers join at Dover to form the Piscataqua. In addition, two of the principal rivers of Maine, the Androscoggin and the Saco, have their beginnings in northern New Hampshire.

New Hampshire has 1300 lakes or ponds and 40,000 miles of rivers and streams which provide year round fishing and recreation in scenic surroundings, as well as power for the State's many industries.

"THE GRANITE STATE"

New Hampshire is commonly known as the Granite State, and of late years by some writers is called the Queen State — "Queen by right of her natural beauty; queen by her native hardy spirit; queen by her diversified industry; queen by reason of her motherhood of great men. She is enthroned on hills of granite, diademed with sparkling waters and sceptered with industry."

The state entertains annually over a million summer visitors who resort in the mountain, lake and seashore scenery, — in fact it has been estimated that a million automobiles cross our borders annually! The soil is suitable for fruits, flowers and vegetables. The forests of pine, spruce and hard wood add beauty to the landscape and wealth to the land.

The White Mountains are the natural feature which has the widest fame. New Hampshire bodies of water cover one hundred and fifteen thousand acres and vary from small ponds to Lake Winnepesaukee, which is twenty-two miles long and eight miles wide.

New Hampshire's publicly-owned aerial tramway, the first erected to a mountain top in North America, is located in Franconia Notch near The Old Man of the Mountain. Its cars have carried 2,000,000 passengers in their eight-minute ascent of the 2022 feet to the top.

No state grows apples of finer flavor than come from the hillsides of New Hampshire. Horticultural shows have no better exhibits than are presented from towns in the southern part of this state, where the orchards have been sprayed and treated by the latest scientific methods. Strawberries, blueberries, peaches and products of the garden are grown in great quantities and shipped hundreds of miles.

New Hampshire is also famous for her products made from the sap of the maple tree.

Dairying is a large business and in recent years the quality of the herds has increased tenfold. There are 5,779,840 acres of land in the state, 1,960,061 acres being in farm land, with the number of farms estimated at 16,554, according to the 1940 farm census. There were over two and one-half million acres of timber land, which contained over thirty billion feet of merchantable timber, but the disastrous hurricane of 1938 has sadly depleted the standing timber in New Hampshire's granite hills.

It is estimated that every year more than four million dollars is permanently invested in the purchase of land and the construction of buildings in the rural districts. Nearly every town has some summer visitors. Winnepesaukee shores are lined with cottages and hotels; Sunapee has a summer population of over five thousand, who enjoy its beauties.

The state has a seaboard of about eighteen miles. Hampton and Rye beaches have been famous summer resorts since the days Whittier pitched his "tent on the beach." The salt waves of the Atlantic lap the sometimes sandy, sometimes rocky coast into one continuous pleasure ground, where surf bathing and scenic beauty enchant the visitor. In the early fall of 1915 a disastrous fire at Hampton Beach destroyed many of the hotels and places of business there, but the resort has since been rebuilt from the ruins until it is larger and more attractive than ever. The recreational area at Hampton Beach has greatly improved the appearance of that part of the coast. The state maintains a large public bath house and a parking area there. The erection of a sea wall in 1934 not only improved the property along the coast but was a necessary measure against coast erosion.

Among New Hampshire's all-year, all-season recreation attractions, none are more popular than its winter sports. Mount Washington is the highest mountain east of the Rockies and north of the Mason-Dixon Line. Its privately-owned cog railway was the first mountain climbing railway in the world.

New Hampshire has some of the finest ski terrain in the east where the sport may be enjoyed well into July and August. Its many lifts include the widely known Cranmore skimobile, operated all year, and Tuckerman, Cannon, Sunapee and Gilford slopes.

Portsmouth, the only sea city, has an historic past and a prosperous present with its large navy yard. New Castle is a place of romance and aesthetic beauty and adventure. A large part of the Isles of Shoals in Portsmouth harbor belongs to New Hampshire, with their cottages and hotels. Lobster fishermen find the Isles of Shoals and the New Hampshire coast favorable areas for taking this famous sea food. The state highways are as fine as any state can boast of and are kept in excellent driving condition the year round. New Hampshire is open to visitors, from the coast to the mountains, twelve months in the year.

FISH AND GAME

In 1865 New Hampshire joined the vanguard of American science by establishing a fish and game department, the first one of its kind in New England. Since that date, some eighty odd years ago, the efforts of this department have been devoted to the propagation and conservation of fish and game.

In modern times the cultivation of fish and the protection of wild life have demanded the application of scientific methods quite as much as any other element of our life. It is a known fact that while European countries have found vast resources in their shore fisheries, the United States is by no means able to rely on her coast fisheries, and has thus been obliged to develop her inland waters to meet the needs that otherwise could have been met only by importation from other countries. Moreover, while Europe's supply is bound to lessen in time to come, our supply will continue to increase.

Today, New Hampshire's Fish and Game Department employs a balanced team of trained wildlife men, fish culturists, and law enforcement officers to maintain and increase the available supplies of her native species under the pressure of vastly increased demand. To do so means that every one of her waters and every bit of cover must be contributing its full share to the state's crop. Research personnel are constantly exploring new avenues to increase natural productivity, while evaluating the results of current practices.

Since World War II, a program of modernization and expansion of fish rearing facilities has more than doubled the annual output available for stocking. Beautiful new rearing stations which rank with any in the country for modern design and efficient operation have been built at Merrymeeting Lake in New Durham, at Summer Brook in Ossipee, and at Merrimack, between Manchester and Nashua. Five other stations at Colebrook, Twin Mountain, Warren, New Hampton, and Richmond have been completely reconditioned.

Fish and game is now recognized as a major factor in the recreation business which is one of New Hampshire's foremost sources of revenue. We can be justly proud of the effective teamwork between department personnel and the sportsmen of the state who are looking forward with the eye of true conservationists to establishing the fish and wildlife species of our state on a secure footing for future years. Deer, grouse, black bear, snowshoe hares, landlocked salmon, togue, black bass, and several species of brook trout are only a few of the wild residents which are to be found in such plenty as to make sportsmen choose New Hampshire first.

"COME TO NEW HAMPSHIRE"

New Hampshire believes in progress and development in every direction. It is the third most industrialized state in the Union and prizes itself on the quality and diversification of its products. New Hampshire is the home of the famous breed of poultry known as the "New Hampshires." She invites the whole world to visit her mountains, the "playground of America." Those seeking opportunity for profitable farming will do well to write for further information to the Commissioner of Agriculture, Concord, N. H.; sportsmen are invited to send for literature and advice to the Fish and Game Director, Concord, N. H.; those looking for business openings, either in manufacturing enterprises or in the retail field, should correspond with the New Hampshire Dept. of Resources and Economic Development, Concord, N. H.

THE STATE HOUSE

The first discussions regarding the erection of a suitable state capitol building in New Hampshire took place in the year 1814. It was indeed a memorable year. The War of 1812 had come to a close with the signing of the Treaty of Ghent, although the news had not reached America until after our troops under General Jackson had continued fighting into 1815 and won the famous battle of New Orleans.

Other matters attracted state attention. One was the election of a "Republican" governor, William Plumer, who defeated the "Federalists." Another was the Dartmouth College case in which the Governor favored state domination of the College. The legislature considered the proposed new capitol building, but first had to determine in what locality it would be.

The contest was between Concord, Hopkinton, and Salisbury, the last named town having offered seven thousand dollars for the honor. In the end Concord won, and by 1816 final action had been taken to build there.

Considerable expense was saved the town of Concord by the decision to build the Capitol of granite from what are now the Swenson quarries at the north end of the town, and to have the cutting and shaping and facing of the stones done by the inmates of the prison.

A feature of the new and imposing building thus provided was its huge gold-painted wooden eagle, which was raised to the top of the dome in 1818. Appropriate ceremonies presided over by Governor Plumer were marked by a series of toasts, one of which was, "The American Eagle. May the shadow of his wings protect every acre of our united continent and the lightning of his eye flash terror and defeat through the ranks of our enemies."

The new building's actual cost was only approximately $82,000, but it provided adequate quarters for the legislature and committees, the Governor and Council, the Secretary of State, the Treasurer, and the library. Stuart J. Park, the builder, goes down in history as having done an admirable job, and he has a Concord street to the north of the building, Park Street, named in his honor. The first session of the legislature to be held in the new building was in 1819.

There is no record of discussion of enlargements or expansion of Capitol facilities until 1857. At that time there was pointed out the need for more library space and rooms for new departments. Nothing was done, however, until the problem became acute in one of the Civil War years, 1863, through the offer of the city of Manchester of a sizeable sum to build a new capitol and locate it there. This amount was stated to be no less than half a million dollars.

The legislature having voted to retain the Capitol in Concord, plans were at once made to undertake its enlargement and remodeling. This was begun in 1864 and completed by 1866. The cost was said to have been approximately $200,000.

In 1881, plans having been proposed to gain new space for needs caused by growth in State operations, by the removal of the library to a building of its own, plans for such a building were made. These plans, as ultimately adopted, not only provided for a "State Library," but for the Supreme Court as well, and the building was finally completed in 1895. The Library was later enlarged in 1903.

Not until 1903 was the problem of increasing needs for more space in the conduct of the State's business to come under discussion. In this discussion the point was conclusively made that "the majority of State offices cannot be provided with accommodations and are located in other buildings . . . ." and that this was uneconomical and ought to be corrected.

Acting under a resolution which instructed the Governor and Council to remedy this situation, Governor Bachelder employed a firm of Boston architects to prepare a plan for an extensive enlargement of the Capitol.

The arguments included the danger from fire, the inadequacy of the House and Senate to seat the membership, and the lack of meeting rooms for the legislative committees. This called for what amounted to an entirely new state house at an expense of approximately a million dollars, and by 1909 a bill for such an amount was introduced.

Again the city of Manchester entered the scene, offering the million if the state house might be removed and rebuilt there. The legislature voted again to retain the Capitol in Concord, and an act for the issuance of bonds for the construction required was passed.

Governor Quimby and his Council then employed architects under whose plans the entire building was remodeled precisely as it is today, making the entire building fire-proof in all its parts, providing electric elevators, modern lighting, vaults, and an up-to-date heating system. During the years following, the proposal of 1903 regarding the necessity of providing for the various departments under one head was again considered, and plans were drawn in 1937 for the present State House Annex.

The corner-stone for this new undertaking was laid in 1938, and the cost at completion, including a considerable grant from the federal government, amounted to $327,000. Here are housed more than twenty of the State's departments in modern, well-equipped offices. The Annex is connected by an underground passageway with the Capitol itself.

Since the building of the Annex, other improvements have been undertaken to keep the State government in step with modern progress. Recently the entire outer surface of the Capitol Building has been expertly sanded and washed, restoring the granite stones to their original clean, fresh appearance.

Likewise the statues of John Stark, Daniel Webster, President Pierce, John P. Hale, and Commodore Perkins have been properly cleaned and made tarnishproof by a modern professional process. Also the gilded wooden eagle, the Capitol Building's long familiar emblem, having been found to be suffering from the effects of many decades of weathering, has been replaced by an element-proof metal replica which now adorns the dome where its gold will glisten in the sunshine of long years to come. These things are among the accomplishments of the administration of Governor Lane Dwinell.

OUTLINE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE GOVERNMENTAL PERIODS

1. First Period

This was a period of early settlement in New Hampshire, from 1623 to 1641, a period of 18 years. There was no provincial organization, only local self-government. The first settlements were at Portsmouth and Dover.

As parts of Massachusetts Bay Colony (1641-3 to 1679) the towns of Hampton, Exeter, Dover, and Strawberry Bank were comprised within Norfolk county, which was one of the four shires, viz., Essex, Middlesex, Suffolk, and Norfolk, into which the Bay Colony was separated from "3d month, 10th day 1643."

The Province of New Hampshire agitated the subject of county establishment for years previous to decisive action in 1769, one plan, which came to nought in 1755, being to make two counties, Portsmouth and Cumberland, with the Merrimack as the dividing line.

The act which passed April 29, 1769, contained the provision that it should not take effect until "his majesty's royal approbation thereof be known," and the further provision that "said counties of Strafford and Grafton shall be for the present annexed to and deemed and taken as parts and members of the County of Rockingham *** until the governor by and with the advice of the council shall declare them respectively sufficient for the exercise of their respective jurisdictions and no longer." Governor John Wentworth, in a message to the house of representatives in March, 1771, said "it gives me great pleasure to inform you that his majesty has been graciously pleased to approve and confirm the act for dividing this Province into counties." The existence of Rockingham, Hillsborough, and Cheshire counties began on March 19, 1771, Strafford and Grafton having received authority to exercise and enjoy county privileges, as set forth in Governor John Wentworth's message to the house on May 28, 1772, their separation from Rockingham became effective on June 5, 1773, by the terms of the act of February 5, 1773, "fixing the times and places for holding courts in *** Grafton county," four months being allowed for the building of "prisons, court houses," etc.

THE COUNTIES

When New Hampshire was a part of the colony of Massachusetts Bay, from 1641 to 1679, the principal towns of New Hampshire were part of Norfolk county in Massachusetts. New Hampshire did not divide herself into counties, however, until 1769, six years before the Revolution. In that year the five counties of Rockingham, Strafford, Hillsborough, Cheshire and Grafton were established.

Coos was the sixth county, established in 1803. Merrimack was established in 1823, Sullivan in 1827, and Belknap and Carroll in 1840. Since the original division into counties the legislature on twenty occasions has amended and changed the layout. ### Revolutionary Councilors, 1776-84

Article 60 of the second part of the constitution provides for an executive council of five men to advise and act with the governor. Before the constitution there was a council both under the temporary constitution of the Revolution and under the provincial government. Since 1913 councilors have been elected by plurality vote to represent population but previously to that they were elected by majority vote to represent property, and in the colonial days they were appointed.

The following is a complete list of all the councilors since the Revolution giving the name and address of each and the year in which he was elected or appointed.

THE SENATE

The senate began under the constitution and first met in 1784. There were at first twelve senators who represented the five counties that then existed, five senators from Rockingham county, two from Strafford, two from Hillsborough, two from Cheshire and one from Grafton. In 1793 senatorial districts were created to take the place of county representation and each district elected one senator. The elections during the early years took place in March and the legislature met in June annually.

The senatorial districting of 1793 was changed over in 1803 and several times subsequently. In 1878 the senate was doubled in size. In 1915 the senators were elected by plurality instead of majority vote. The following is a complete list of the senators from the beginning, showing the name and residence of each member of each senate, arranged in the order of districts from 1793, when the districts were created, and previous to that year, in the order of counties.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Articles 66, 67 and 68 of the second part of the constitution provide for a department of state with a secretary of state who is elected biennially by the legislature and a deputy secretary of state appointed by the secretary. In the colonial period there was a secretary appointed by the chief executive, but no deputy. During the revolutionary period and under the constitution of 1784 the secretary was chosen by the legislature and given authority to have several deputies, but in 1793 the constitution was changed to provide for a single deputy.

THE TREASURY

Article 66 of the second part of the constitution provides for a treasurer who is elected biennially by the legislature. In the colonial period the treasurer was appointed by the chief executive and frequently the same man was secretary of the province and treasurer. In 1891 the legislature created the office of deputy treasurer.

The following is a list of the treasurers from the beginning and the term of office each served. A list of the deputy treasurers is also given with the residence and term served by each.

FEDERAL CENSUS

THE UNITED STATES

The United States is composed of fifty states, one district, one commonwealth, and five major non-contiguous territories and possessions.

The republic originated in the rebellion of the British Colonies of North America, Canada excepted, in 1776, and in the Declaration of Independence, the thirteen colonies in revolt styled themselves "The United States of America."

The Canadian boundary line is 3,900 miles in length, the Mexican boundary line being 1,975 miles in length.

According to the 1940 Federal census, the first basic re-measurement of the land and water area of the continental United States since 1880 showed a total area of 3,022,387 square miles, consisting of 2,977,128 square miles land area, and 45,259 square miles inland water area. The total area of Alaska, according to this census, is 586,400 square miles and the total area of Hawaii is 6,419 square miles.

The Capitol of the United States is at Washington, D. C. The corner stone of the original building was laid on September 18, 1793 by President George Washington. The original building was finally completed in 1827, its cost, including the grading of grounds, alterations and repairs up to that year, having been $2,433,844.13.

FEDERAL CENSUS OF 1970

The State. New Hampshire was one of the Thirteen Original States. Its population on April 1, 1970, according to the Twenty-first Census, was 737,681. The State has a land area of 9,017 square miles. In 1970 there was an average of 81.8 inhabitants per square mile as compared with an average of 67.3 in 1960.

The official population count of the State as of April 1, 1970, was 737,681. This represents an increase of 130,760, or 21.5 percent, from the 606,921 inhabitants of the State in 1960.

This report presents final 1970 census statistics on the number of inhabitants of the State and its counties, classified by urban and rural residence. In addition, figures are shown for each county subdivision, each incorporated place, and each unincorporated place of 1,000 or more.

The figures presented here are being issued in advance of their publication in Final Report Series PC(1)-A. The final report for this state will be issued within the next few months.

An outline of the 1970 census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D. C. 20233 or any U. S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

In 1790 New Hampshire had a population of 141,885 (Table 1). In 1970, 180 years later, its population was over five times as large. In the twentieth century, the intercensal rates of growth ranged from a low of 2.9 per cent to a record high of 21.5 per cent. In 1900 the population of the State was 411,588, and in 1960 it was 606,921.

Urban and rural residence. — According to the definition adopted for use in the 1970 census, the urban population comprises all persons living in urbanized areas and in places of 2,500 inhabitants or more outside urbanized areas. More specifically, the urban population consists of all persons living in (a) places of 2,500 inhabitants or more incorporated as cities, villages, boroughs (except in Alaska), and towns (except in the New England States, New York, and Wisconsin), but excluding those persons living in the rural portions of extended cities (see "Urbanized areas," below); (b) unincorporated places of 2,500 inhabitants or more; and (c) other territory, incorporated or unincorporated, included in urbanized areas. The population not classified as urban constitutes the rural population.

Urbanized areas. — An urbanized area generally contains at least one city of 50,000 inhabitants or more and includes that portion of the surrounding territory, whether incorporated or unincorporated, which meets specified criteria relating to population density. There are a few urbanized areas which are based on "twin central cities" that have a combined population of at least 50,000. Some urbanized areas contain one or more incorporated places designated as "extended cities." These places are so designated because they have one or more large portions (normally at the boundary of the city) with relatively low population density. These portions are classified as rural and the residents are not included in the population of the urbanized area.

County subdivisions. — The Census Bureau presents statistics for subdivisions of counties, as follows:

- (a) By minor civil divisions in 28 States — Arkansas, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, and Wisconsin.
- (b) By census county divisions in 21 States — Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Idaho, Kentucky, Montana, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming.
- (c) In Alaska, by boroughs and reservations for those census divisions (the county equivalent) which are so subdivided.

Minor civil divisions (townships, districts, etc.) are the primary political divisions into which counties are subdivided. In some States, incorporated places are minor civil divisions in their own right. In other States they are subordinate to the minor civil division in which they are located, or the pattern is mixed — some incorporated places are independent minor civil divisions and others are subordinate to the minor civil division.

Census county divisions represent community areas which have been defined in recent decades by the Census Bureau with the cooperation of the Governors and State and local officials. These areas have physical features (roads, streams, etc.) as boundaries or follow the limits of incorporated places. The census county divisions in these States have replaced a variety of minor civil divisions which were unsatisfactory for statistical purposes principally because their boundaries frequently changed, were imaginary lines, or were not well known by many of the inhabitants.

Incorporated places. — Political units recognized as incorporated places in the reports of the census are those which are incorporated as cities, boroughs, towns, and villages, with the following exceptions: (a) boroughs in Alaska, and (b) towns in the New England States, New York, and Wisconsin. For extended cities (see "Urbanized areas" above), the data in table 2 refer to all of the population residing within the corporate limits of the city. For these cities, table 3 shows the urban and rural parts separately; comparable 1960 data are not available because this concept was not used prior to 1970.

Unincorporated places. — As in the 1950 and 1960 censuses, the Bureau has delineated boundaries for closely settled population centers without corporate limits. All such places of 1,000 inhabitants or more are shown in tables 2 and 3, and are identified with the letter "U."

Boundary changes. — The boundaries of some of the areas shown in this report may have changed between 1960 and 1970. The 1960 figures given here have generally not been adjusted for such changes. Specific information on the changes will be presented in the Series PC(1)-A final report for this State.

Percents and symbols. — Percents which round to less than 0.1 are shown as zero. A dash "—" signifies zero. Three dots "..." mean not applicable. Minus sign preceding a figure denotes decrease. The symbol "NA" means not available, and "U" means that the place is unincorporated. In table 3, an asterisk "*" denotes an incorporated place under 2,500 located in an urbanized area.

Persons voted for at a primary, who received a plurality of all the votes cast by a party, shall be candidates of that party for the office designated in the ballot.—RSA 56:53

The direct primary election was held September 10, 1974, with candidates of the Republican and Democratic parties participating.

In the summary immediately following are the full names and residences of the candidates, also their total votes. Then follow tables carrying the vote in detail and giving only the last names of the candidates.

The first tables give by counties the vote for Governor and U.S. Senator. The next tables give by districts the votes for Representatives in Congress, the votes for Councilors, and the votes for State Senators. ## RECOUNTS AFTER THE PRIMARY

After the Primary, fourteen requests for recounts were received. The request for a recount of ballots cast for Rockingham County Commissioner, District No. 2, Democratic, was withdrawn.

Thirteen recounts of ballots were conducted by the Secretary of State, September 30, 1974; eight recounts were Republican contests, and five were Democratic contests.

One of the recounts resulted in a change in Bedford — Democratic.

The recount in Hillsborough County District No. 5 — Republican, resulted in a tie vote between Henry B. Richardson and Mervin E. Willard. The tie was broken by drawing lots and Henry B. Richardson won the tie.

The other recounts did not result in a change of nominees.

Following are the tables, with the nominees of the Republican and Democratic parties indicated by an asterisk.

PREAMBLE TO THE*1974 REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION PLATFORM

We, the Republican Party, in Convention assembled at Manchester, on Saturday, the 28th day of September in the year of Our Lord 1974, do hereby adopt the following statements of principle and beliefs for our Party for the next biennium of the State of New Hampshire.

We will maintain the basic Republican Doctrines of free enterprise and fiscal responsibility.

We pledge to accelerate our efforts to combat inflation and resolve energy related problems. We support increased industrial productivity and effectiveness in government by common-sense business management.

We recommend that the State impose no unfunded programs on subsidiary levels of government.

We believe we should always be responsive to the needs of our people and accountable at all times to the taxpayer.

We firmly subscribe to the philosophy of Abe Lincoln—that government be of, by and for the people.

Therefore, we urge solid support for all Republican candidates as a means of assuring continued good government.

HUMAN RESOURCES

Social Services

We recognize that top priority lies with our state institutions. We therefore urge expanded and modernized mental health services for New Hampshire, capable of early intervention in the causes of mental illnesses and disorders and of rehabilitating a larger number of those presently cared for in the state's institutions.

We will strive for the adoption of a uniform code on alcoholism and drug abuse with provisions for medical care and rehabilitative treatment for all persons who are alcohol and drug dependent.

We will continue to insist that waste and fraud in Welfare be eliminated and see that the taxpayers and worthy welfare recipients receive fair consideration.

We believe that without decency and morality our society would indeed perish, therefore, we urge continuing resistance against, smut, pornography and depravity throughout our state.

We will continue to work to relieve our elderly citizens from burdensome taxes and will insist on a more efficient delivery of federal funds to our elderly citizens.

We pledge expansion of child care services.

We urge continued study and adoption of a fair mobile home law that will carefully define the rights and responsibilities of mobile home owners, park owners and our communities.

Education

We believe that the entire secondary and post secondary education resources of the state, including vocational-technical schools, should continue to be strengthened.

We will continue our strong support of the University System, but insist that costs for our in-state students be kept to a minimum, that greater efficiency be effected and that educational preference continue to be given to New Hampshire students.

We believe our private schools and colleges contribute to a better New Hampshire. Our goal is to keep them healthy and productive.

We advocate increased emphasis on vocational education in our secondary schools.

We recognize that the learning disabled and the handicapped child present a major concern. We urge that legislation on the state and national levels be focused on this problem.

We encourage the continuation of our Vocational Rehabilitation and Manpower Training Programs to encourage people to be working, productive members of society with dignity and self-respect.

We believe it is the right of each citizen, child and adult, to attain the completion of a high school education, should that be his desire, and declare our support of plans and programs that will provide all New Hampshire citizens, during their lifetime, a continuing opportunity to reach this level of attainment that is recognized so broadly as a requirement for job opportunity and promotion.

NATURAL AND ECONOMIC RESOURCES

Environment

We will continue the cleanup of our air, lakes and rivers with all possible speed; however, environmental considerations should be balanced with economic progress.

Recreation

We reaffirm our pledge to encourage orderly expansion and development of recreational areas by the private sector.

We will continue the orderly and prosperous expansion of New Hampshire recreational facilities, including snowmobile trails.

Fish and Game

We support the efficient operation and more responsive service to our sportsmen within income limits.

Development

We support land use legislation based upon the ability of the land to support the proposed use and where most decisions are made at the local level.

We oppose the creation of any new state control system: rather we support the simplification of existing agencies.

We strongly support efforts to preserve our agricultural and forest lands recognizing their importance to our economy and way of life.

We support the adoption of a 200 mile fishing limit.

We accept the New Hampshire-Maine boundary compromise approved by the Governor and Council and the State's legal counsel. We recognize the problems of the New Hampshire fishermen in this settlement and their right to submit new and better evidence.

Transportation

Recognizing the inadequacy of Route No. 3 to carry the existing traffic load safely, and the economic need of industry in northern New Hampshire, and further recognizing the proven ability of the New Hampshire Department of Public Works and Highways to design and build roads which enhance, rather than destroy the scenery, we therefore support the construction of an adequate highway through Franconia Notch.

We support the continued orderly growth of our state transportation system, including continued improvement of our secondary road system, and the rejuvenation of our railways.

Business, Industry and Agriculture

During this inflationary period, we favor continued encouragement and assistance to our present industrial and recreation base in all manners consistent with their needs, with continued attention toward solving their energy requirements.

We pledge to continue development, research and promotion of agriculture on a basic economic factor in our state.

We pledge to oppose any and all legislation which would tend to restrict the free enterprise system.

State Employees

New Hampshire State Employees have had a tremendous influence in making our state the leader of them all. We owe them no less. We support an improved negotiation law, as well as a cost of living supplement, improved benefits and an improved retirement system, for our state family.

We support Question No. 1 on the November referendum to amend the Constitution by removing the one year clause in granting pensions, striking out the line under Article 36, Part I, of the Constitution which says that pensions shall only be granted for one year at a time.

Labor

We applaud the great labor force within the State of New Hampshire, particularly for its cooperation and restraint during these difficult inflationary times. While fully realizing restraint does not help make ends meet, our Platform, therefore, encourages the adoption of efficient negotiation guidelines for all employees within the state, based upon practicality and need.

VETERANS

It is the aim of the Republican Party to revive and perpetuate the same degree of honor and reward for our veterans today as was theirs when they just came home.

We support the traditional dates of May 30th and November 11th as the appropriate time for honor and mourning.

We urge its uniform adoption throughout the nation.

LAW ORDER AND JUSTICE

We honor the constitutional right of every citizen to possess firearms legally but urge more severe penalties for those who use such weapons in the commission of a crime.

Judiciary

We support a periodic review of judiciary appointments, reviewable by a board.

We urge mandatory long-term prison sentences without parole for convicted traffickers of heroin and other hard drugs.

We recommend the adoption of the concept of probate reform as set forth by the American Law Institute and the American Bar Association.

Prison System

We support a long range building program; training for correctional officers; adequate hospital facilities; and cooperation with local departments and institutions.

Law Enforcement Personnel

We support adequate income, retirement benefits and equipment to aid law enforcement personnel in their tasks.

Parole System

We support reform of the parole system with tighter controls and supervision of parolees and rehabilitation programs.

Highway Safety

We support the adoption of National Highway Safety Programs because of the high fatality and accident rate on our highways. We support a strong enforcement program to save lives.

OPERATION OF GOVERNMENT

We recommend economical operation of all levels of government with adequate planning, budgeting, auditing and performance controls.

We recommend enactment of a strong conflict of interest law with full disclosure.

Taxation

No new taxes. State programs can be maintained within existing state tax structure without imposition of a general income tax or a general sales tax. We will oppose either of these taxes.

We believe that the best government is government closest to the people. We further believe that greater responsibility should be given to local and county governments. Therefore, we recommend that local home rule should continue as a vital principle of our system of government.

We endorse the concept of annual sessions of the Legislature as approved by the recent Constitutional Convention without increasing the total number of legislative days.

Federal Government

We recommend repeal of the Occupational Safety Hazards Act (OSHA).

We support maintaining New Hampshire as a free, sovereign and independent state, and we oppose any federal intrusion in state affairs and private lives.

ADDITIONAL RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED AT THE 1974 STATE CONVENTION

DEMOCRATIC ORGANIZATION

The 1974 New Hampshire Democratic Party Platform

REPORT OF THE PLATFORM COMMITTEE—1974 AN INTRODUCTION

Recently, platforms have been instruments of divisiveness, causing Democrats to think of each other as “us” and “them.” Angry battles have been fought over non-issues that mattered only to the press. The net result has been bitter feelings, losing candidates, and a long, detailed platform that was immediately forgotten. The 1974 platform is, we hope, the beginning of a healthier and more effective process.

We feel that the Party should do what it can do best—set goals. And we also feel that the legislature, at least its Democratic members, should carry out its mandate—write and pass meaningful legislation.

With this in mind we have tried to identify long-range goals for the Party and state, goals that will unite us as Democrats and distinguish us from Republicans. We have made a clear attempt to avoid specifics that will later be developed into legislation. We feel the substance of this platform, determined as a result of hearings held throughout the state, is a significant step toward a new and effective platform model.

With this new structure comes a new opportunity. We would like to have an ongoing platform committee that would meet regularly with elected Democratic legislators and members of the executive branch to formulate specific legislation as a result of party goals. Eventually the progress made could be measured and reported to each meeting of the State Convention.

This platform little resembles platforms of the past. This in no way should be construed as a change of position. Most of the specific items are included in the general goals that the platform has established.

We feel that this is a good beginning for making the platform a positive guideline for Democrats. We, on behalf of the members of the Platform Committee, respectfully submit our work to you, members of the State Convention.

CAMPAIGN AND ELECTION LAW REFORM

The Democratic Party supports the following basic principles and envisions their accomplishment both through specific legislative proposals and party rules and regulations.

CAMPAIGN REQUIREMENTS

The ability of persons to file and run for public office should be open to all without unduly complicated, onerous, or restrictive requirements.

CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS AND EXPENDITURES

Full and timely reporting and disclosure of campaign contributions and expenditures should be required at frequent intervals both during primary and general election campaigns in such form as to be easily understandable and accessible to the general public, but not unnecessarily burdensome to candidates. All primary and general election campaign contributions and expenditures should be limited and should be fully disclosed.

VOTER REGISTRATION

Registration to vote both in primary and general elections should be a simple, uniform, and continuing process which affords easy access to all eligible voters.

ELECTION OFFICIALS

Election officials should be representative of all political parties to ensure fairness in the electoral process.

SIMPLE AND OPEN ELECTION PROCESS

The election laws covering all phases of the electoral process should be codified, simplified and made uniform. Access to the electoral process, whether for voting, registration, or the obtaining of information, should be simple and uniform to ensure the greatest possible public participation.

ELECTION REVIEW COMMISSION

There should be established a single governmental body, representative of all parties, charged with the responsibility of instructing local election officials in their duties, providing candidates and the general public with authoritative interpretations of the campaign and election laws, and providing an easily accessible, swift, and inexpensive forum for the disposition of disputes relating to campaign and election laws.

FREE ACCESS TO VOTER INFORMATION

There should be made available to candidates and officers of the political parties from the Office of the Secretary of State, without cost, accurate and complete information containing the names, addresses and political party affiliation of all registered voters.

ELECTION BALLOTS

The election ballots should be printed in such manner as to reduce confusion with respect to the selection of candidates and to eliminate voting by the straight party circle at the top of the ballot.

HUMAN NEEDS AND SERVICES

HEALTH

Effective health care should be available within reasonable distance and time to all New Hampshire citizens without regard to personal financial circumstances. It should include education, prevention, treatment, rehabilitation, and maintenance to allow all individuals their full potential of physical and mental well-being. Attention should be directed to care in all health fields, with emphasis on the needs of the elderly and the disadvantaged.

WELFARE

The dignity of individuals, the protection of their human rights, and the provision for their basic needs should be assured for all who are unable to be self-sufficient. Self-sufficiency, to the highest degree possible, should be the goal of all New Hampshire citizens.

HOUSING

Every citizen of New Hampshire should be assured decent and safe housing at a reasonable cost. The rights of homeowners, tenants, landlords, and developers should be protected fairly, and responsibilities shared mutually and equitably.

EDUCATION

All educational opportunities should be equally available so that all citizens can reach their highest potential. Higher education or vocational training or retraining should be available to all at a cost reasonably reflecting their financial resources. Emphasis should be placed on the needs of exceptional individuals whether gifted or handicapped, and on their right to a full share of all educational resources.

SOCIAL SERVICES

The need for social service programs to help people cope with the problems of everyday living and to deal with exceptional circumstances, should be recognized. These programs should be adequately funded. All social service agencies, whether public or private, should be encouraged in acquiring all possible support, especially New Hampshire's full share of all available federal funds. Control, planning, and implementation of social service programs should be administered so as to be both available and accountable to the people. The highest possible percentage of available money should be spent on the actual service.

THE ARTS

Given the beauty of our state and the potential creativity of its people, all efforts should be made to encourage artistic expression and to make the Arts available to all people.

CULTURAL AND ENVIRONMENTAL HERITAGE

The Democratic Party pledges to preserve the cultural and environmental heritage of New Hampshire.

LAND USE

Because land is our basic natural resource and in absolutely limited supply, its use must be carefully planned and regulated. Therefore, a state-wide land use plan must be created and enforced.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

The Democratic Party pledges full support of existing environmental protection statutes and encourages Democratic leadership in the establishment of new environmental protection policies.

REGIONALIZATION

Because no local area can exist in today's world without meaningful relationships with its neighbors on the local, county, state, or interstate levels, it is essential to have mechanisms which encourage cooperation in planning on issues which confront the region as a whole while maintaining at least federal minimum standards.

CULTURAL AND ETHNIC HERITAGE

Recognizing the distinctive contributions that have been made to the growth and development of this state by culturally diverse, ethnically different, and denominationally distinct but genuinely devoted American citizens, both men and women, the Democratic Party calls for the preservation of this enriching pluralism.

Recognizing that any policy will succeed only to the extent individual citizens respect it and are involved, the Democratic Party endorses maximum participation by all.

HUMAN DIGNITY

We believe that justice, dignity, opportunity, and respect are inherent rights of all people. Age, sex, status, race, creed, national origin, or income must not be a barrier to the full rights and privileges granted to all persons under our Constitution.

We need to focus special attention on some groups within our society whose rights and privileges remain unfulfilled.

THE ELDERLY

The older citizens of our state, whose labor and efforts have continued the long process of providing the opportunity of a full life for all of us, are being neglected. The senior members of our society must be assured dignity and security.

CHILDREN

The nurture and care of all children will be one of our major concerns. The abuse and neglect of children must be the concern of all society and demand the involvement, understanding, and cooperative efforts of all citizens. We believe that all children have an absolute right to counsel in all civil or juvenile proceedings.

WOMEN

Although improvements have been made in the opportunities available to women, we must always be aware of areas where discrimination because of sex still exists. All institutions, governmental or private, must treat women equally. We, the Democratic Party, will encourage and provide an opportunity for women to assume leadership roles within the party. We will encourage women to seek public office. We, as a party, will actively pursue legislative goals which will provide equal opportunities for women in all areas of our society.

PRISONERS

We reaffirm our belief that justice and dignity must be a standard for all people. We must recognize that those who break the law and must live for a time away from society should be treated in a manner that will allow them to return to society as productive and dignified citizens.

FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION

People must have the right to express themselves free from governmental interference or censorship. This freedom should be limited only when it would infringe upon the rights of others.

PRIVACY

We believe all people have an inherent right to privacy which must be respected by all governmental agencies and private institutions.

PUBLIC ADVOCATES

The needs of citizens for fair redress of grievances against both governmental and private institutions requires the establishment of a public advocate. The office of the advocate must be unfettered by economic, political, or ideological constraints.

We must review and re-evaluate our laws and institutions to bring a standard of quality and dignity to all. When seeking solutions to our problems, we must not be bound by our present way of thinking, but must explore and be receptive to new ideas.

LABOR AND ECONOMIC PROGRESS

The Democratic Party will continue to promote administrative policy and seek legislative action that will provide a better standard of living for a larger number of New Hampshire citizens.

THE WORKING PERSON

We support workers' rights to bargain collectively and to work under good conditions at fair wages. We support: effective minimum wage legislation that covers all workers and that has the federal standard as its floor; the right to organize and bargain collectively for all workers including public employees, and teachers and staffs of educational institutions; conditions of public employment that provide a standard for private employers and that include cost-of-living adjustments and extra pay for overtime; opposition to any laws, including so-called right-to-work laws that undermine labor unions.

EQUAL ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY

Equal opportunity and pay for women and older citizens must be realized. We support: pointed demonstration of equality in all public employment and government service; representation of women, older citizens, organized labor, and other frequently excluded groups on the public and private councils that make policy in the state.

FINANCES

Our objective is to avoid unnecessary changes in the tax/revenue system, and to administer existing taxes fairly and efficiently, to distribute revenues so they go to areas and activities that need them. We support: the reform of our systems of taxation so that wealthier citizens with unusual opportunities to shelter income do not avoid paying their fair share of the public burden; the reform of our system of property taxation so that every citizen is treated fairly in terms of ability to pay; a change in social security and other payroll taxes so that they no longer take a larger share of a low income than of a high income.

GOVERNMENTAL RESPONSIVENESS

Departments of the State Government must be responsive agencies that recognize the rights of their clients. We support: the elimination of lifetime appointments that lead to negative, irresponsible administration; positive operation that helps the unemployed or other constituents to find new jobs or build new careers and that encourages those who need them most to take advantage of their rights to guidance and benefits; unemployment benefits and workmen's compensation that keep pace with inflation and offer extended coverage to those that face long-term problems; denial of benefits only when the agency has presented appropriate job opportunities to the worker.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

We encourage economic development in areas that need it most in forms that do not destroy our environment or our way of life and in ways in which the cost does not exceed the benefit. We support: the focus of development effort on areas of highest unemployment; local review of all plans for siting plants and the roads and other facilities required to support them; the thesis that agricultural use of land should not be penalized; the maintenance of a viable transportation system.
